

COOKIES POLICY

Our Cookies Policy is here to help you understand how we use cookies on our website and what that means for you. By using our site, you agree to let us track your activity with cookies on www.amoebatsc.com. If you have any concerns or want to change your cookie preferences, just follow the steps below.

When you first visited our website, you may have seen a pop-up about cookies. While it won't appear every time, you can change your cookie preferences or withdraw your consent anytime by following the steps below.

What are Cookies?

Cookies are small text files that websites store on your computer or mobile device while you browse. They help improve your experience by remembering your preferences and making the site work more smoothly.

For more details about cookies, check out these resources:

www.allaboutcookies.org / www.youronlinechoices.eu / www.termsfeed.com

Why do We Use Cookies?

Cookies help us understand our website visitors better so we can create a more personalised experience. They can store login details, remember items in your shopping cart (if applicable), and even help tailor ads to your interests. Based on your previous visits, Amoeba TSC customises content to make your experience more relevant and seamless.

The main purpose of cookies is to make browsing easier and more convenient. We use them to improve our website and understand general user behaviour—without collecting sensitive or personally identifiable information like your name, address, or payment information. If, in rare cases, cookies store personal data, Amoeba TSC ensures it is encrypted for your security.

What are the different types of Cookies?

Cookie Type	Description
Strictly Necessary Cookies	Essential for the operation of our website. They include, for example, cookies that enable you to log into secure areas of our website, use a shopping cart or make use of e-billing services.
Analytical/Performance Cookies	They allow us to recognise and count the number of visitors and to see how visitors move around our website when they are using it. These cookies may also tell us how many of our visitors are male or female and may summarise the number of visitors who fall within certain age ranges, or certain interest categories or certain geographical area. This helps us to improve the way our website works, for example, by ensuring that users are finding what they are looking for easily.
Social Networking Cookies	These cookies allow users to share content on social media platforms and help link activity between a website and third-party sharing platforms.
Behaviourally Targeted Advertising Cookies	These cookies record your visit to our website, the pages you have visited and the links you have followed. They are specifically designed to gather information from users on their devices to display advertisements based on relevant topics of interest. They are also used to limit the number of times you see an advertisement as well as to help measure the effectiveness of the advertising campaign. These cookies remember that you have visited our website and use this information to tailor advertising for our products and/ or services when you visit third party websites. The information on the users gathered by the cookies may be shared with other advertisers to measure the performance of their advertisements. We may also share this information with third parties for this purpose. They are mainly third party cookies on our website, and are placed by advertising networks.

Managing Cookies

Most web browsers have tools to delete or block cookies. However, blocking cookies may affect the functionality of some website features.

Disabling Cookies

If you prefer not to use cookies, you can disable them by following the instructions at www.allaboutcookies.org or using automated tools. Keep in mind that turning off cookies may affect some personalized features on our site.

You can also manage or delete cookies directly through your web browser settings (e.g., Chrome, Firefox, Safari). For example, in Internet Explorer, go to Tools > Internet Options > Privacy tab > Advanced to enable or disable cookie storage. However, please note that some website functions may not work as smoothly if cookies are disabled.

If a specific organization provides an automated tool to disable its cookies, we will include a link to that tool along with details about the cookie type. Otherwise, we list the names and sources of cookies used at the time of this policy, so you can easily manage them through your browser settings.

As our website evolves, the cookies we use may change. This Cookies Policy will always provide updated details on who is placing cookies, why they are used, and how you can disable them—so we encourage you to check back periodically.
